The Book Adaptation Right Market for 2017 has been edited using the information assembled by July 12th, 2017.
The Venice Production Bridge may not be held responsible for possible errors.

The Venice Production Bridge team is pleased to present the 2nd edition of the Book Adaptation Rights Market which will take place within the context of the 74th Venice International Film Festival.

We never know whether a new concept would deal with people's demands and thus we were more than happy when, after the first edition of last year, we received the publishers' feedbacks.

It was the first time for them that, rather than focusing on one book, they were able to present their entire catalogues and, above all, they had the time to have in-depth conversations with the producers.

Fostering long term relationship between them was our aim and we achieved it. Consequently, we decided to increase the number of publishers to 19 and to expand it beyond the European borders.

This year, publishers from USA and Japan have joined our French, Spanish, Italian, Greek, Dutch, Belgian, English and German established publishing companies.

We thank all those publishers who are presenting an incredibly wide range of novels, drama, children's literature, genre fiction, short stories, comics, mangas, graphic novels, essays... suitable for cinema and audiovisual adaptations.

We do hope this second edition will bring as many fruitful and motivating encounters as possible and we are looking forward to welcoming you all to our enchanting island.

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

The Womb Rebellion – A community of enslaved women engage in gynecological resistance to a system in which women are exploited as producers and reproducers.

What We Bury at Night – What happens if a last sustainable region on earth is allowed to be destroyed.

Green Pearl Odyssey – A former Peace Corps Volunteer kills a mobster's son in revenge for the killing of his wife and brother, then escapes to Micronesia to avoid the mobster's hired killers.

NAKED – Martha Graham said that dance was the secret language of the soul. NAKED is the literary expression of that dance.

Common Sense Healing – Learn to stop blocking your own healing process;
Post-Revolutionary Cuban Spanish – Thoroughgoing political and economic transformations created a need for new terms to express them.

How to Rule the World – This is a modern adaptation of Machiavelli's The Prince.

Computing Reality – A rare look into the Market of cybernetic theory.

Cuba Is a State of Mind – Three travelers provide insight into Cuba's cultural, political, social, spiritual, and economic life.

Micronesia-The Good Life – What is the "good life"? On her trip to Micronesia, the traveler pondered the meaning of "the good life".

Obi: Seminole Maroon Freedom Fighter – The daring escape of a 15 yr. old enslaved young man and his friends from a plantation in S. Carolina who find refuge among the Seminoles of Florida.

Parables of Milk and Might – In this allegorical novella, reminiscent of the writing style of Orwell's Animal Farm, a university seminar discusses the work of "dairy experts", which is the cause of "milklessness in calveslands".

AUDIOVISUAL RIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

Why is The Womb Rebellion so suitable for the screen? The Womb Rebellion is the latest in a new genre of books and movies related to slavery. It builds on the success of popular films such as 12 Years a Slave and The Birth of a Nation; the best-selling book The Underground Railroad; and the new Hulu television series, The Handmaid's Tale, which interestingly provides a modern-telling of a similar storyline and character development. Along the same vein as in Underground Railroad, The Birth of a Nation and The Handmaid's Tale, the protagonists of the story are not helpless victims of the oppressive system of enslavement, but agents of change. In this book, a community of enslaved women, inspired by a rebellious young female slave, and led by an enslaved midwife, engage in gynecological resistance to a system in which women were exploited as producers and reproducers.

This book provides a captivating story and robust imagery that will translate well onto the big screen.

A quote from the book: "But remember this, he [Bellamy] may own my body and my labor, he may force me to marry a man I do not love, but the only power I have as a woman is my womb, and that power I will never give away".

PUBLISHER PROFILE

C.A.L. is a French audiovisual rights agency. We represent a dozen major editors and roughly forty French authors of popular literature, from which we select works with potential for audiovisual adaptation.

In 1996, the initial C.A.L. business was created by Jean Marie Carpentier, after he had left his position as company secretary at Fleuve Noir (now Fleuve Editions), held since 1960.

In the 60s, when few editors pitched their works for television adaptations, Jean Marie Carpentier was a forerunner in the field, which explains how so many works by Léo Malet, Frédéric Dard, G.J. Arnaud and so many others have been adapted.

In 1996, Editions Plon asked him to manage their audiovisual rights. Other publishing houses (Les Nouveaux Auteurs, Perrin, Bragelonne) followed suit soon after.

Today, the new C.A.L. business is directed by Nathalie Carpentier, the wife of Jean Marie Carpentier, and provides a developed framework that allows you to find select material for audiovisual adaptation by quickly flipping through our catalogue of 150 works by renowned authors and publishers, which is updated quarterly.

C.A.L. has now developed an international profile dealing with major European, American and Chinese producers on projects that contribute to our culture's influence on the world stage.

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

La saga des reines by Jean des Cars (Perrin)

Magne tome 1 : Colère noire by Jacques Saussey (Nouveaux Auteurs)

Kayane : parcours d'une e-combattante by Kayane (404 Editions)

AUDIOVISUAL RIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

Le boiteux de Varsovie by Juliette Benzoni (Plon)

Returning from captivity in 1918, Aldo Morosini, from ancient Venetian nobility, discovers that his mother has been murdered; that a historic gem, the Étoile Bleue, owned by his mother's family was stolen from his palace on the Grand Canal, and that there is no longer any hope of finding the woman he loves. However, to avoid the insult of an autopsy on his mother's remains and the morbid curiosity of the newspapers, he does not notify the police and decides to find the thief and murderer himself.

Mata-Hari, the Spy's Last Dance by Philippe Collas (French Pulp Editions)

Structured like a police investigation, this book illustrates the life of the spy who can rightly be regarded as the first woman of the 20th century to be judged and executed by men who defended the puritanical values she had always fought against. Princess, whore, creator, lover, adventurer... Mata Hari was all this and much more...

The Mists of Grandville by Gwendoline Finaz de Villaine (French Pulp Editions) 1919. In the aftermath of the First World War, Apollonie becomes a music teacher. Beautiful, free-spirited and determined, the young orphan discovers life at the château de Grandville. Before long, she makes the acquaintance of the Countess' son, the magnetic and mysterious Hector, whose beauty is matched only by his cynicism. Still troubled by this meeting, Apollonie falls under the indecent spell of a mysterious voice from the shadows...

De Bezige Bij

PUBLISHER PROFILE

De Bezige Bij (The Busy Bee) was founded in December 1944 and is one of the leading literary publishers in the Netherlands. In WWII, Geert Lubberhuizen gathered a group of students and set up a small press. With their publications they financed their resistance movement.

De Bezige Bij publishes a wide range of Dutch fiction: works by Harry Mulisch, Willem Frederik Hermans, Cees Nooteboom, Tommy Wieringa, Margriet de Moor and Hugo Claus. Our translated literary fiction consists of the works of Philip Roth, Paolo Giordano, Donna Tartt, Khaled Hosseini, Philippe Claudel, Amos Oz, Toni Morrison, Albert Camus, Marcel Proust and Vladimir Nabokov. In this variety of literary styles, there is one common feature: quality.

The main focus of our non-fiction list has always been the Second World War and history in general, but the number of titles in other areas of non-fiction is increasing. Our authors include Paul Verhaeghe, David Van Reybrouck, Frank Westerman, Thomas Piketty, Oliver Sacks and Karen Armstrong. Recently De Bezige Bij has attracted a great number of acclaimed authors. It provides a home for successful novelists such as Peter Buwalda, Ernest van der Kwast, Marcel Möring and Stefan Hertmans.

Two very successful imprints of De Bezige Bij are Thomas Rap concentrating on current affairs, sports and books by comedians and the commercial thriller and suspense list Cargo. You can read many of our Dutch titles in other languages (English, French, German etc).

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

A Thousand Fathers by Nhung Dam – A Vietnamese family was fished out of the water by a cargo ship. In a village in the north they try to survive. The father departs one day leaving no message. The mother and daughter Nhung (11) are abandoned to the whims of the Chinese mafia. Her only weapon for finding her father in a world full of whores, salesmen and gamblers is her rich imagination.

Mama Tandoori by Ernest van der Kwast – The author's overbearing yet loving mother is at the heart of this hilarious family saga. Veena van der Kwast is a woman with an iron will, directness and a talent for haggling. When she is armed with her trusty rolling pin, every man she meets is eventually beaten to submission.

It's Monday Today by Sytske van Koeveringe – Julia cleans other people's homes. Occasionally she meets their owners, most of the time she's there alone. There is a flopped debut, there is an ex. And there is a Julia who gradually takes possession of the bath in house number 61, eats her way through fridges and drinks rosé on a terrace that's not hers.

Santa Rita by Tommy Wieringa – Paul Krüzen has been living with his father on a farmstead along the German-Dutch border. Once his father took care of him; these days the situation is reversed. In search of love for sale, Paul Krüzen crosses the border. In a brothel he becomes entangled in a conflict that forces him to abandon the seclusion around which he has constructed his life.

PUBLISHER PROFILE

DeA Planeta Libri is a newly established Italian publishing house, a joint venture between major publishing groups Planeta and De Agostini. Grupo Planeta, founded in Barcelona in 1949, is the leading publishing group of the Spanish-speaking world and the world's fourth largest publisher. De Agostini is an international group involved in a wide range of industrial and financial activities. De Agostini Editore operates in 30 countries, mainly in partworks and book segments.

DeA Planeta Libri focuses on the publication of Kids, middle grade and young adult fiction, adult international and Italian fiction as well as non-fiction.

As regards the children and young adult section, DeA Planeta publishes a variety of both highly commercial and upmarket international and Italian fiction. On the Italian front, we are significantly increasing our range of high profile authors with an audiovisual potential.

As to adult fiction, we offer a variety of upmarket commercial women's fiction, psychological suspense, thrillers and noir. We are now starting to develop a strong Italian fiction list with a film adaptation potential which will be launched next year.

DeA Planeta Libri recently acquired the Italian rights for the tense psychological suspense book Mirror Mirror, the debut novel by global icon and star Cara Delevingne.

Finally, concerning non-fiction, DeA Planeta Libri publishes both commercial and upmarket essay-driven titles with the two different imprints De Agostini and Utet.

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

Children and Young adult

We Were Liars by E. Lockhart, worldwide bestseller with a film option by Imperative Entertainment.

All the Bright Places by Jennifer Niven (YA fiction), which will become a movie in 2018.

Flawed by best-selling author Cecilia Ahern, movie rights acquired by Warner Bros.

The Mia series by Italian author Paola Zannoner (over 200,000 copies sold), middle grade fiction.

The Lisbeth series by Italian author and scriptwriter Maria Daniela Ranieri.

The Time Deal saga by Italian internationally acclaimed writer Leonardo Patrignani.

Adult fiction

Red Sparrow by Jason Matthews, now a major 20th Century Fox film (March 2018) by Francis Lawrence, starring Jennifer Lawrence and Jeremy Irons.

Eligible by Curtis Sittenfeld – a widely celebrated, modern retelling of Austen's Pride and Prejudice. A perceptive, whip-smart comedy of manners that pokes fun at the mores, quirks and excesses of today.

Mrs Hemingway by Naomi Wood – a best-selling fictional retelling of the famed writer's life through the POVs of his four wives. A mini-series in the works – Amazon to produce with Jude Law set to co-produce and star.

Primates of Park Avenue by Wednesday Martin, PHD – a number 1 NYT bestseller, Primates is a real life account of the author's misadventures in the Upper East Side. A controversial look at the "One percent" through the lens of modern Primatology.

Currently being developed as a feature film by MGM.

AUDIOVISUAL RIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

Divergent saga by Veronica Roth (Italian edition, 700,000 copies sold in Italy, YA fiction). The saga has become an international series of live action movies

Ready Player One by Ernest Cline (Italian edition), now a major sci-fi movie by Steven Spielberg coming out in March 2018.

Need to Know by Karen Cleveland (Italian edition). A psychological suspense/international thriller, which was THE BOOK of the latest London International Book Fair. Instantly pre-empted by Universal, it will soon be a movie with Charlize Theron.

The Beguiled by Thomas Cullinan (Italian edition) – the basis of the film directed by Sofia Coppola which recently won the "Best director" award at the Cannes Film Festival 2017.

Star of the North by John Davis (Italian edition) – an illuminating, action-driven thriller set in North Korea. Reads like a cross between Child 44 and Robert Ludlum.

The World Is by NM Singer (Italian edition). An adventurous, topical and heartbreaking tale which stands as a metaphor of the current refugee crisis.

The Red Address Book by Sofia Lundberg (Italian edition) – a Swedish "Notebook" about an old lady who revisits her past with the aid of a little, red leather bound address book where she has collected the names of all the important people in her life. A moving, star-crossed lovers story with a happy ending that asks the question: Have you loved enough?

France

Éditions de l'Homme Sans Nom

PUBLISHER PROFILE

At the Éditions de l'Homme Sans Nom, we seek to discover French fantasy, sci-fi and mystery rising stars. We are an independent company whose strong point is offering a few select titles each year in order to offer our readers only the best of the best.

Since our creation in March 2011, we've published around 4 to 6 books each year.

We get very good feedbacks from critics and readers, and our presence during book festivals always meets with great success, a confirmation that our approach to the trade is the right one.

Our books are of great interest for French publishers specialized in paperback. Around 30% of our books have found a publisher who has bought the rights for paperback publishing... and it's a growing number (we aim to reach 50% by the end of the year)!

We believe in working one step after another, and we want to take our time to do things right. Even if we're still a small and independent company, we believe it is important to have high standards and ambition (thus our willingness to have audiovisual adaptations of our books, for example).

Our next steps? We are currently working on translation rights, and, of course, we want to accompany our founder's love for cinema (along with literary studies, he studied cinema during his youth).

In order to discover our books, information can of course be found on our official website, but also on our website designed for movie professionals, both in French and in English: <http://livres.editions-hsn.fr> (with regular updates).

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

The Dark King – Imagine The Count of Monte Cristo in space and you'll get the gist. First novel by Oren Miller, before she discovered her true calling, mystery novels.

Chesstomb – A deep and erudite homage to H.P. Lovecraft's Herbert West. High concept between past (we meet H.P. Lovecraft as a main character!) and present, through the documents of a journalist. A book written as a kind of literary Blair Witch Project.

Iluvendan – A refreshing steampunk/fantasy young adult adventure.

Peter's Mirror – A visit into the psyche of a horror writer, and the theme of the mirror. Also evokes the world of Hollywood movies, with Stanley Kubrick, Freaks, or the different adaptations of Peter Pan.

The Kerns' Chronicles – High epic sci-fi/fantasy; more than 30k sales in France.

The 25th Hour – Takes place in a 1888 Paris, a highly documented mystery and fantastic novel which introduces a uchronic twist: what if the dead could strike legal deals with the living?

Dreams of Utica – A young adult adventure in a post-apocalyptic world. When The Odyssey meets Alice in Wonderland.

Xénome – A quest for identity in a dystopic Paris, written by a biology teacher. About the place of social networks and biology in today's world, a thrilling adventure that bears a resemblance to 1984 or Gattaca.

AUDIOVISUAL RIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

Our very high standards allow us to offer a selection of great quality.

Blood of the Princes by Romain Delplancq; swashbuckling adventure in a world evoking Italy during the Early Renaissance. Many critical praises, rights for paperback publishing sold in France.

I Lay Dying Greatly, Thank You by Oren Miller; our first mystery novel, a witty homage to Agatha Christie taking place in 1950s Great Britain.

Now, You Can Bury the Bride by Oren Miller; our second mystery novel, in which Oren Miller brings back her characters to solve a new mystery. More of a thriller than the first book, takes place in Monaco, Paris and Martinique.

Oren Miller is also known in France as the rising star of romance. She has published under the nickname of "Lucie Castel" with HarperCollins. Her first romance, Not That Simple, has met with great success.

Adam's Dream by Sébastien Péguin; German atmospheric novel, exploring the myths of a tree able to resurrect people. Our "master of horror's" answer to Pet Sematary. A synopsis written by a professional scenarist is available.

Our Otherworlds by Nicolas Debandt; a (soft) sci-fi masterpiece which questions our current fears about the disappearance of bees and refugees from destroyed countries.

After the Winter by David Bry; a poetic and atmospheric initiatic quest about a young man taking place in a world of Nordic legends.

Spain

Editorial Planeta

PUBLISHER PROFILE

Editorial Planeta, founded in 1949 by José Manuel Lara Hernández, was the seed of Grupo Planeta. Later, other publishing companies and cultural, audiovisual and communication companies were gradually incorporated.

Editorial Planeta, a leading publisher and reference point across the entire Spanish-speaking world, publishes works by Spanish and foreign authors aimed at a broad public that seeks reading matter that combines quality and success. Its catalogue lists nearly two thousand authors and encompasses all literary genres: novels (adventures, history, detective, humour and thrillers); essays of a political and historical nature; biographies and memoirs of contemporary figures, as well as practical and self-help books.

Since the year 1952 it has awarded the Planeta Prize, the most recognised and outstanding of all Spanish literary accolades. An annual event that transcends the world of letters and becomes a focal point for cultural and social news every 15th of October when the award is announced. Included in its list of honours are Nobel Prize winners Camilo José Cela and Mario Vargas Llosa, and the big names in Spanish literature from the second half of the 20th century, who are joined by authors that the prize has helped become established before a broader audience such as Juan Marsé, Soledad Puértolas, Antonio Muñoz Molina, and Eduardo Mendoza.

AUDIOVISUAL RIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

Das Glück meines Bruders by Stefan Ferdinand Etgeton (C.H. Beck). In this humorous, touching story, Botho and Arno van Dijk return to their Grandparents' old house in Belgium. Between childhood memories, the stable brother becomes lost while the flawed one finds his happiness.
Ein mögliches Leben by Hannes Köhler (Ullstein, 2018). Hannes Köhler's novel is the first to address the gripping topic of German "Prisoners of War" in American camps.
Niemand ist bei den Kälbern by Alina Herbing (Arche, 2017). Christin recently moved to her boyfriend Jan's farm, but dreams of a big city and an office job. Barriers seem insurmountable until Klaus, a wind power engineer from Hamburg, appears.
Weit weg ist anders by Sarah Schmidt (Insel, 2017). Two German Golden Girls on the road: from the Usedom rehab-land to the blinking Baden-Baden casino world – the touching and funny story of a liberation.
Das wissen wir schon by Noemi Schneider (Hanser Berlin, 2017). What is there left to do when your own mothers have already saved the world? A phenomenally hilarious novel on generations.
Das Licht und die Geräusche by Jan Schomburg (dtv, 2017). Johanna is madly in love with her classmate Boris. When Boris disappears and Johanna finds a goodbye letter, sent from Reykjavik, she sets off for Iceland to search for Boris.
Verrat – Sieben Verbrechen an der Liebe by Jessica Schulte am Hülse (dtv, 2017). Seven unbelievable stories, where people tell about the moment when they realized that nothing was as it had seemed to them.

PUBLISHER PROFILE

Glénat is an independent illustrated book publisher which publishes over 650 titles a year. Founded in 1969 by Jacques Glénat, The Company started as a comics and graphic novel publisher before widening its catalogue to illustrated books and children's books. Glénat Editions is today one of the major publishers on the French scene. Its books are translated worldwide.

Glénat's catalogue now hosts three major types of books:

Comics, Graphic Novels and Manga (350/year): A catalogue of over 8,000 titles of graphic novels and manga of all kinds for children and adults with a wide variety of topics. Adventure, science-fiction, non-fiction, biographies, historical, memoirs, humor, erotic...

Children's Books (100/year): Picture books, arts & crafts, activity & colouring books, middle-aged non-fiction books, story books with cds, our children's books catalogue is diversified and for every age group.

Glénat publishes a wide variety of children's picture books. They all have a special tone which makes them unique. Glénat also publishes activity books and illustrated non-fiction for children.

Non-fiction illustrated and text books (about 200/year): Our main editorial themes are mountains, the sea, nature, natural history, travel gastronomy, lifestyle, outdoor, arts & crafts and lifestyle. From outdoor guide books, to mountaineers' memoirs and illustrated music books, Glénat covers a wide range of topics, (nearly) always illustrated!

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

Glénat is proud to publish some of the most important comics and graphic novel authors: Cabu, Xavier Dorison, Philippe Druillet, Alejandro Jodorowsky, Olivier Ledroit, Liberatore, Régis Loisel, Milo Manara, Fabien Nury, Serpieri, Wolinski, Zep...). A lot of them have received many literary awards during their career.

In nearly 50 years of existence, Glénat has published some of the best-selling French comics and graphic novel series:

Titeuf – A children's series sold over 22 million copies and was translated into 25 languages. It is one of the most sold comic books in France nowadays. The 15th volume of the series is due in August 2017. A children's TV series (3 seasons) and an animated film have been produced.

Lou! – Children's series sold over 3 million copies in 7 volumes. Volume 8 is expected for November 2017. A children's TV series and a feature film have been produced.

Joe Bar Team – Humor series dedicated to bikers and motorbike enthusiasts has sold over 5 million copies.

Le bleu est une couleur chaude – The graphic novel series that inspired the movie La vie d'Adèle sold nearly 200,000 copies and has been translated in 13 languages.

Il était une fois en France – Based on a true story, has sold over 1 million copies and won several awards.

Many other series could be listed and have become landmarks or classics. Glénat continues today to publish authors with whom it has a long history but is also scouting for new talents that are the bestsellers of tomorrow.

AUDIOVISUAL RIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

Glénat holds the worldwide audiovisual rights of most of its list. We cover a great variety of "genres" which appeal to a broad audience. Plenty of great stories and characters perfect for films and TV series.

The highly visual list of Glénat was very early on a perfect match for children's animated series. As a result, many of Glénat's children's series have been adapted into TV series and are broadcasted in France and abroad, such as Titeuf, Lou!, Tony & Alberto, Captain Biceps, Zap College, Nini Patalo, etc. Glénat still launches new series every year and continues to work closely with animation publishers.

Additionally, 10 to 15 of Glénat's adult series are being developed in feature films. Glénat works mostly with French producers but also with European and American companies.

Glénat's most notable movie adaptation is La vie d'Adèle which won the Palme d'Or at the Cannes Film festival in 2013. La vie d'Adèle is adapted from Le bleu est une couleur chaude, now an international bestseller.

The diverse stories and genres covered by the Glénat list create many opportunities to work with producers. There are graphic novels for everyone and of any genre. Just as movies, graphic novels create a world of their own and have this fantastic power to transmit emotions through visuals, whether it is a self-contained Sci-Fi universe, a down-to-earth thriller or a moving romance.

Kadokawa

PUBLISHER PROFILE

Kadokawa has over 60 years of experience as a publishing house. It publishes a wide range of book genres and contents including novels, light novels, comics, business books, practical books and children's books to name but a few. As one of the leading publishers of light novels and comics in Japan, we have launched a new genre, the Shin-Bungei, and started publishing stories that were originally released on the internet. In addition, as a pioneer of the mixed media method of making films and animation movies based on books and comics, we will accelerate the development of high-quality content through various media.

Since 2014 Kadokawa has run an on-line comics platform, "Comic Walker", which supports not only Japanese but also English and Traditional Chinese.

Kadokawa has a motion picture department which develops local productions (both animation and live-action) based on the comic books we publish and acquires foreign films, and distributes these products in Japanese theaters, as DVDs/Blue-ray Discs, TV and digital formats. Kadokawa is a one stop company which can publish, produce and distribute, and is interested in international co-production based on the books (IPs) we represent.

Chotto Imakara Shigoto Yamete Kuru (I Am Quitting My Job Now) by Emi Kitagawa (Novel, Drama)

Takashi is under immense pressure to meet his tough sales quota at work. Mentally and physically exhausted, he loses consciousness at a train station and begins to fall from a platform, while a train quickly approaches. At the last moment, he is saved by a man who calls himself Yamamoto and claims to be a childhood friend, who Takashi has no memory of whatsoever. After meeting the mysterious yet super-charming man, Takashi rediscovers his old cheerful self and his job performance gradually improves. Then one day, Takashi looks Yamamoto up on the internet and finds a choking truth: Yamamoto died three years ago...

Overload (Overload) by Kugane Maruyama (Sci-Fi, Novel)

On that day, one internet game was supposed to stop providing services at midnight, but it was never possible to log out. More than that, the non-player-characters began to have their own will, and the player also became the character in the game...

AUDIOVISUAL RIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

Long Night by Jiro Akagawa (Suspense, Novel)

In the face of mounting debts and despair, the Shirahama family is about to commit suicide together. But a mysterious man approaches them and promises to clear their debts if they move to a town where his daughter and grandchild were murdered and find out the truth about their mysterious deaths. The family accepts the offer and discovers a frightening secret that the town is desperate to keep, even at the cost of human lives.

Crimson Labyrinth by Yusuke Kishi (Thriller, Novel)

A despondent and vulnerable man finds himself caught in a dangerous "game" of survival where no morality exists. The prize is enormous but the stakes are high, as there is no one to trust. The sponsors have a larger agenda as they push the victim in a paranoid journey through hell.

Calling You by Otsuichi (Drama, Short Story)

Ryo, a lonely high school girl, doesn't own a cell phone. Instead of having a real one, she just likes to imagine a cell phone inside her head. One day, her imaginary cell phone begins to ring and connects her to another lonely soul with his imaginary phone inside his head. As their friendship develops, their isolated worlds begin to open up.

MacLehose Press

PUBLISHER PROFILE

The MacLehose Press was founded ten years ago, soon after The Harvill Press, of which Christopher MacLehose had been the publisher for twenty-two years, was acquired by Random House London. In the Harvill years that press translated books from thirty-two languages. In the ten years of MacLehose Press we have commissioned translations from twenty-three languages. Our objective is to find and translate and make available to the English-speaking world the best work wherever it may come from. We read, with the essential help of a committee of readers, in more than forty languages. We are a small house and we publish only twenty-eight titles a year. The writers that we publish are predominantly from France, Spain and the Spanish-speaking countries of Latin America, from Italy, Holland/Belgium, the Nordic countries and Germany. We publish only a very few writers who write in English: one Canadian, one Indian, two Scottish writers, one Australian – and one Welsh, but she writes in and is translated from Welsh.

The elements of the list are:

1. Literary fiction in translation
2. Literary non-fiction, biography, historical studies in translation
3. Crime fiction in translation, of which this last is not unimportant to our catalogue in view of the widespread popularity in the English language of, recently, Scandinavian and French noir fiction.

AUDIOVISUAL RIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

We receive and respond to numerous applications from film companies, production companies and scouts, mostly in Europe and in north America, enquiring after books we publish in English. A great many of our books are being filmed in the countries of their origin, some of which emerge into the English-speaking world, but many do not. We take a close interest in the development of the many negotiations which revolve around the books written by Pierre Lemaitre. Au revoir la-haut is in production, Alex shortly will be. We daily await news of the conclusion of negotiations for a film or television series of Joël Dicker's La vérité de l'affaire Harry Quebert. And we take pride in the English-language versions of the films made from the Millennium novels of Stieg Larsson and now of the sequel written by David Lagercrantz, which have proceeded on the basis of our translations.

Média Participations

PUBLISHER PROFILE

Média Participations is a recognized leader in traditional print publishing, press, film and TV animated production, and digital media. It offers content tailored to a variety of audiences and age groups, and it is well-known in each of these sectors both in France and abroad.

Thanks to Dargaud, Le Lombard, Dupuis, Kana and Urban Comics, Média Participations is the unquestioned leader in the field of European graphic novels and comics. With a large catalogue of more than 4,000 titles, Média Participations has a blockbuster in store for everyone and for every screen!

With production companies based in both France and Belgium, Média Participations is the premier European hub for cartoons and offers a catalogue of more than 2,000 hours. Using a platform that allows for digitalized versions of comics called Izneo, the whole group has been able to invest in the adaptation of its contents into a digital format and currently offers 7,000 digitalized works.

The group currently has more than 50 audiovisual projects in progress around the world and a large catalogue still available, this achievement is the result of our policy that began in the late 1950s oriented towards the development of cinema.

Dargaud

Dargaud's catalogue covers a rich and varied terrain, which includes numerous cult classics (XIII, Valérien, Blueberry, Achille Talon...) pioneered by Dargaud, many of which were promoted through the pages of the famed Pilote magazine. In addition to these flagship titles, the Dargaud brand remains an incubator of fresh new talent, with collections such as Poisson Pilote and Long Courier. Dargaud's incredible team have generated an unmatched track record of bestsellers.

Le Lombard

The legend of Le Lombard began in 1946 with the creation of the famed Tintin magazine. Among its many famous titles are Blake et Mortimer, Ric Hochet, Thorgal, Jonathan, Cubitus and Leonard. These legends have been joined by recent successes like Alpha, I.R.$. (Troisième Vague), Miss Endicott (Signé), and L'Elève Ducobu. In total, the Lombard catalogue includes approximately 800 titles created by more than 140 authors from around the world.

Dupuis

Dupuis has created iconic figures like Lucky Luke, Spirou, Boule et Bill, Les Schtroumpfs, Cédric, Le Petit Spirou, Kid Paddle, and Largo Winch, and continues to publish some of the world's greatest artists. Each year, 5 million Dupuis comics and graphic novels are sold across the globe.

AUDIOVISUAL RIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

From XIII to Largo Winch, all the way to Valérien, our titles have travelled from the big to the small screen, and all around the world. We have worked with the world's most important partners, from Canal+ and StudioCanal to UGC, from EuropaCorp to PanEuropéenne...

We have sold the rights and co-produced films and series from every horizon and style, and for everyone to enjoy!

From the animated films based on Asterix and Lucky Luke in the 60s, 70s and 80s produced by our studios, all the way to action-packed films like Largo Winch, we have explored all kinds of styles! From the poetic world of the Rabbi's Cat in Alger, the fascinating world of politics in The French Minister to the intricate investigation around The Clearstream Affair, and the dark secrets of the famous XIII...

But we have never neglected the children within us all, and have made kids (and their parents!) laugh with Ducoboo, Tamara, The Marsupilami, Billy & Buddy, and soon to come, Spirou & Fantasio that will lead us in their incredible adventures!

The year 2017 will see 7 theatrical releases based on titles from our catalogue. From The Death of Stalin to The Little Spirou and Zombillenium, all the way to Luc Besson's Valérien, the most expensive French movie ever made, based on the graphic novel published by Dargaud.

2018 will be no less impressive, with already 5 films in production!

Nefeli Publishing

PUBLISHER PROFILE

Nefeli Publishing is based in Athens, Greece. Since its founding in 1979, it has published more than 1500 titles, introducing in Greece writers and works of seminal importance in subject areas such as: Contemporary and Classical Greek and Foreign Fiction and Poetry, Literary Theory and Criticism, Art, Music, Theatre, Philosophy, History, Linguistics, Sociology, Psychoanalysis and Children's Literature.

By maintaining long-standing dedicated title series with an emphasis on subject depth and thoroughness, Nefeli has been a major contributor to the promotion of literature and academia in Greece and is reputed for its quality, both in terms of production values and in regard to the choice and editing of the texts.

Nefeli has been closely following current debates about the changing role of publishing in the 21st century, by integrating a number of its functions with the online platform Fairead, as well as venturing in developments in Open Access Publishing. Our philosophy is one of nurturing the fundamental values of publishing, whilst making the necessary adaptations in order to face future challenges in an ethical and sustainable manner. Our focus on beautiful typography and good design makes our projects stand out and underlines their importance.

Our catalogue of translated literature includes many internationally acclaimed authors such as Gabriel Garcia Marquez, Fernando Pessoa, James Joyce, E. E. Cummings, Ian McEwan, Toni Morrison, Barry Unsworth, Vladimir Nabokov, Witold Gombrowicz, Daniil Kharms, Louis Aragon, Boris Vian, Graham Greene, John Steinbeck, Henry James, Bertolt Brecht, Tomas Tranströmer, John Ashbery, Oriana Fallaci, Friedrich Glauser, Richard Stark and Ferdinand von Schirach. Among our classics series are authors like William Shakespeare, Franz Kafka, Rainer Maria Rilke, William Blake, Gustave Flaubert, Johann Wolfgang von Goethe, Nikolai Gogol, Molière, Marc Twain, Jean Racine, August Strindberg, Edmond Rostand, Georg Büchner, Pedro Calderón de la Barca, Carlo Goldoni, Gotthold Ephraim Lessing, Maxim Gorki, Georg Heym, Mary Shelley, Guy de Maupassant, Comte de Lautréamont, Marquis de Sade, D.H. Laurence, William Makepeace Thackeray, Arthur Schnitzler and the Goncourt brothers – beautifully translated and carefully edited.

Among Nefeli's published titles that were also major film successes abroad, are Ian McEwan's Atonement, as well as Thomas Hardy's Jude the Obscure, John Irving's The Cider House Rules and Barry Unsworth's Pascali's Island.

AUDIOVISUAL RIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

In recent years, we have been scanning contemporary Greek literature to locate its most distinctive voices. We consider audiovisual representation as essential in the promotion of Greek literature and culture abroad. Powerful as they may be, our texts have limited impact as books in a non-Greek market: they are hardly taken up by foreign publishers as there is no established trend for such a minority language and translators are few and far between. A small breakthrough was last year's film Amerika Square, based on the book Victoria Does Not Exist (selected in Chicago and Busan, award winner in Thessaloniki and Trieste Festivals).

A promising line in this direction, mostly for animation producers, may well be our series of children's books. The Tale of the Cage for example, beautifully written and illustrated: at the end of its journey, the lonely Cage learns that the best way to make lasting friends is to take good care of them and to respect their freedom.

Another set of our proposals concerns filmmaking within the "Greek Weird" wave (George Lanthimos, Athena-Rachel Tsangari) as well as in genres unexpected for Greek literary production such as The Supervisors (2016) a fictionalized chronicle of the ambitious Øresund road/rail bridge linking Denmark and Sweden, or David Bowie – Looking for Starman, a short adventure which unfolds like a crime story where pop culture interfaces with science fantasy.

PUBLISHER PROFILE

Founded in 2002, Nottetempo is a proudly independent publishing house with around 400 titles in its catalogue. The editorial project combines high-quality literary fiction with the pleasure of reading, good literature with the experience of intensity and lightness. Mostly focused on contemporary authors from Italy and from all over the world, Nottetempo's strong international list in both fiction and non-fiction aims at quality, variety and commitment. Among our authors are Mario Benedetti, Alberto Manguel, Naomi Alderman, Olga Tokarczuk, Pavel Sanaev, Milena Agus, Dubravka Ugresic, Yan Lianke, Karin Alvtengen, Judith Schalansky, Nicolas Fargues, Kim Thuy and Burhan Sonmez. Alongside the contemporary and international fiction list, are some classics: Stevenson, Dickens, Colette, Yourcenar. We also have several non-fiction series (reportages, philosophy, current affairs and others) that gather great thinkers such as Byung-Chul Han, Bourdieu, Chomsky, Agamben, Said, Butler and Zizek.

AUDIOVISUAL RIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

La contessa di ricotta (Countess Butterfingers) by Milena Agus
 Nominated by the 2010 Berlinale Film Festival for the "Books at Berlinale" event. Translation rights sold in 12 countries.
 Countess Butterfingers' heart is so big it's about to burst and she loves everyone so much that everyone can hurt her. She has two sisters, one is beautiful and the other lonely. When her eyes meet those of her neighbour she realizes that even wonderful surprises can break your heart.
Il grande animale (The Great Animal) by Gabriele Di Fronzo
 In the shortlist for the Bookciak, Azione! award at the 2017 Venice Film Festival. A difficult relationship between a father and a son is the background of the flamboyant sentimental education of a young embalmer. A story that expresses all the seduction of abandonment and goodbyes.
Due di tutto e una valigia (Two of Everything and a Suitcase) by Mila Venturini
 In a hospital, waiting for her father to be operated, twenty-year-old Sara looks back at those days when she and her brother went through their parents' divorce. A drama turns out to be a brilliant comedy as the kids discover the advantages of the situation: infinite possibilities of transgression!
 Recent film adaptations:
Mal di pietre (The Woman from the Moon) by Milena Agus. Film by Nicole Garcia, Mal de pierres, Les productions du Trésor in Cannes competition 2016.
Il riporto (The Combover) by Adrian Bravi. Film in production by Nukleus film (Croatia) with the support of AdaptLab Torino Film Festival.

PUBLISHER PROFILE

Place des Editeurs is an internationally leading group composed of twelve different publishing companies (including Belfond and Presses de la Cité).

Belfond

A discoverer of new talent and the publisher of some of the world's most prestigious authors, Belfond étranger (the company's foreign literature imprint) encompasses a broad range of works, from literary to mainstream, detective novels, women's fiction and the cult books of the Vintage collection. Belfond étranger also publishes politically and socially engaged texts, as well as books on spirituality and personal development in its L'Esprit d'ouverture collection. As to books in French, Belfond publishes a wide variety of genres: literary works, sagas and major novels, historical novels, essays, first-hand accounts and biographies.

Presses de la Cité

Thrillers, women's fiction, adventure novels, futuristic novels, first-hand accounts... With a catalogue featuring the international best-selling authors (Jonas Jonasson, Danielle Steel, Elizabeth George), new voices (Vea Kaiser, Fredrik Bachman) and forgotten writers (Ernst Haffner, Grace Metalious), Presses de la Cité offers a global reading experience. As for works by French writers, there are the Michel Bussi's detective novels (the second most widely read French author in 2016), the Terres de France collection featuring authors who are passionate about the various regions of France such as Jean Anglade, Daniel Cario and Elise Fischer, as well as essays on French society.

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

Belfond

Belfond has published 17 novels by Harlan Coben, the peerless master of suspense, the most recent: Intimidation (2016), Une chance de trop (2004 and 2015) and Juste un regard (2005 and 2017).

Douglas Kennedy, the virtuoso of psychological thrillers, has become one of the most popular authors in France. Last success: Toutes ces grandes questions sans réponse (2016).

Haruki Murakami has on several occasions been tipped for the Nobel prize for literature. His most recent works published in French: Des hommes sans femmes (2017).

With over 8 million copies of her books sold, Françoise Bourdin, France's #6 best-selling author, is one of France's foremost writers of women's fiction. Latest book: Face à la mer (2016).

Presses de la Cité

Danielle Steel has published nearly 100 bestsellers in France and is the mostly read contemporary author in the world. Last book: Cadeaux inestimables (2017).

Elizabeth George is the author of gripping detective novels and has sold over 18 million books worldwide. Her latest novel published in France: Une avalanche de conséquences (2016).

Jonas Jonasson's first novel, Le vieux qui ne voulait pas fêter son anniversaire, achieved worldwide success. The Swedish phenomenon's latest work is L'Assassin qui rêvait d'une place au paradis (2016).

Michel Bussi is the author of the bestseller Un avion sans elle. In France, he is the second best-selling author overall, with over a million novels sold. Latest book: Le temps est assassin (2016).

AUDIOVISUAL RIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

Belfond

Ne le dis à personne... by Harlan Coben (2002) was successfully adapted for the cinema by Guillaume Canet, starring François Cluzet, while Une chance de trop (2004 and 2015) and Juste un regard (2005 and 2017) were both adapted as TV miniseries for TF1.

L'homme qui voulait vivre sa vie by Douglas Kennedy (1998) achieved international success. Translated into 16 languages, it was adapted for the cinema in 2010 by Éric Lartigau, starring Romain Duris, Marina Foïs and Catherine Deneuve.

Je sais pas (2016), the chilling thriller by Belgian author Barbara Abel, has sold over 20,000 copies in France and received critical acclaim. It is currently under option for an audiovisual adaptation. The author won the Prix Cognac for best detective novel in 2002. With Je sais pas, her 11th novel, in which a child holds an adult's destiny in her hands, she once again demonstrates her perfect mastery of the domestic thriller.

Presses de la Cité

The French author Michel Bussi, the master of suspense "à la française", also triumphs on the international stage, his books have been published in 35 countries. He is on the bestseller lists in the UK having sold over 150,000 copies of Un avion sans elle (2012), which is currently under option for an adaptation as a TV miniseries. Two of his other bestsellers, Maman a tort (2015) and Le temps est assassin (2016), are also under option for TV adaptations.

De Geus houses renowned Dutch authors such as Alfred Birney, Esther Gerritsen, Jaap Robben, Charles den Tex, Annelies Verbeke.

SubQ is a brand-new publisher of graphic novels and other visual stories in The Netherlands.

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS (Translations available)

The Dutch Maiden by Marente de Moor (Winner European Union Literature Prize 2014). Set almost completely in Germany in the 1930s, the story draws a world of love, fencing foils and the threat of war.

The Man without Illness by Arnon Grunberg (film rights sold to Bandes à part Films). A Swiss architect, idealistic and naive, discovers on a business trip to the Gulf that history can repeat itself remorselessly and that a European passport is no guarantee for a safe return.

A Hunger by Jamal Ouariachi (Winner European Union Literature Prize 2017, film rights sold to NL Film). Besides exploring the nature of love and examining the wisdom and folly of development aid, it is a fierce polemic against rigid sexual mores.

The American Princess by Annejet van der Zijl (film rights sold to Joop van de Ende Productions). The true story of Allene Tew (1872-1955), an ambitious girl from the country, who entered the wealthiest and aristocratic circles through five marriages. But she lost her children.

Goddess, Hero by Gustaaf Peek. About the nature of sexual attraction, the chemistry that draws people together.

What The Hedgehog Really Wanted by Toon Tellegen (suitable for animation). One of Tellegen's famous poetic and philosophical animal stories about Squirrel, Ant, Mole, Hedgehog in an incomprehensible world.

Pussy Album by Stella Bergsma (film rights sold to Peachtree Film). Eva van Liere, 37, teacher, woman, poetry lover, junkie, loves life desperately, but the feeling isn't mutual.

AUDIOVISUAL RIGHT HIGHLIGHTS

The Interpreter From Java by Alfred Birney. For a Dutch cobbler's daughter, a former military interpreter from the Indies and their son there is no present. Only a burdened past. The son haunts his parents with questions about the war in the Dutch-Indies that still rages in their family. 'A demonstration of the amazing power of narrative: the novel heals, disrupts, renews and moves.' (Winner Libris Literature Prize 2017)

Brother by Esther Gerritsen. Minutes before Olivia has to speak at an important meeting of shareholders, her brother calls. His leg might have to be amputated. Marcus and Olivia hardly see each other, but the amputation has an unexpected impact on her.

La Superba by Ilja Leonard Pfeiffer. An astonishing literary novel that pays homage to a city like no other: Genua, La Superba. An expat poet is the reader's charming guide to the labyrinthine city and its inhabitants. He is chasing a fantastic femme fatale, who, in a bizarre twist, becomes more than just a figment of his imagination. But the love story is doomed to end tragically.

A Sleepless Summer by Bram Dehouck. The super superficial harmony in a small town is upended by the arrival of a wind park — a blessing for some, a curse for others. The irritating hum of the turbines keeps the local butcher awake at night. He falls prey to a deadly fatigue and gradually loses control over his work, setting off a series of blood-curdling events, with fatal consequences for the townspeople. Life will never be the same again. Translations available.
